1. BASICS

Project Title

Wisdom & Chance — Tactical Trading Card Game

Short Blurb (135 characters max)

"A strategic trading card game of elemental power — build your deck, command your army, and outwit opponents in real-time PvP."

Category & Subcategory

- Category: Games !' Video Games
- Subcategory: Card Games

Campaign Duration

30 days (recommended). Shorter campaigns create urgency and perform better in Kickstarter's algorithm.

Funding Goal

Suggested: $5,000 – $10,000

- A lower, achievable goal increases the chance of funding — which boosts algorithm visibility.
- Use stretch goals to capture larger ambitions beyond the base target.
- Account for ~10% in Kickstarter (5%) and payment processing (3–5%) fees.
- If you need $5,000 net, set your goal at approximately $5,600.

2. PREFERENCES

Late Pledges

Enable. This allows backers to continue supporting the project after the campaign closes — you will not lose any potential funding.

Currency

USD (US Dollars).

Collaboration

Set to "No" unless you want a co-creator listed with shared account access to the project dashboard.

Comments

Enable. Backers expect to interact with creators. Aim to reply within 24 hours — Kickstarter's algorithm rewards active, engaged campaigns.

Project Updates — Plan Ahead

Send at minimum 3 updates during the campaign:

- Day 1 — Launch announcement and thank-you to first backers.
- Midpoint — Progress update, behind-the-scenes content, remind people to share.
- Final 48 hours — Urgency push, any unlocked stretch goals.

Audience Discovery

Leave "Allow Kickstarter to recommend your project" enabled. This puts your campaign in front of users browsing similar projects at no extra cost.

3. REWARDS

Suggested Reward Tiers

Amount	Tier Name	What Backers Receive
$1	Supporter	Name in in-game credits
$5	Early Player	500 bonus Gold + exclusive Founder profile badge at launch
$10	Deck Builder	Above + 3 premium card packs + Founder badge
$25	Element Master	Above + all 5 Element Mega-Packs + exclusive card back skin
$50	Champion	Above + Premium Battle Pass Seasons 1 & 2 + "Kickstarter Champion" commander title
$100	Legendary Backer	Above + name on a real in-game Hall of Legends card + direct Discord dev access
$250	Card Creator	Above + submit a card concept — a real card named after you added to the game

Early Bird Tip

Add a limited Early Bird version of the $10 tier at $7 (first 100 backers only). This drives a surge of pledges in the critical first 48 hours and signals momentum to the algorithm.

Estimated Goals vs. Rewards Cost

Digital rewards (Gold, packs, Battle Pass) cost nothing to fulfill — 100% of those pledge amounts go toward your project. Physical rewards ($250 tier if you add a print run) carry fulfillment costs; budget accordingly.

4. STORY

Opening Hook

"Five elements. Infinite strategies. One battlefield."

What Is It?

Wisdom & Chance is a tactical trading card game where Fire, Water, Earth, Air, and Nature clash in real-time PvP matches that reward preparation, adaptability, and smart thinking over luck alone.

Players build 40-card decks led by a Commander — a powerful leader whose unique abilities define your entire strategy. Every match unfolds across five structured phases: Draw, Deploy, Combat, Calculate, and End. You know the rules. So does your opponent. Who wins comes down to who planned better.

Cards range from Common to Legendary based on power level. Strict deck-building rules (max 3 copies per card, balanced power distribution) ensure every match stays competitive — no single card dominates.

What's Already Built?

Wisdom & Chance is a fully working, playable game available right now on web and mobile (iOS & Android):

- Full deck builder — 40+ cards and commanders across 5 elements
- Real-time PvP multiplayer — cross-platform between web and mobile
- Ranked seasons with ELO tiers from Bronze through Master
- Full economy: earn Gold, open packs, craft cards, disenchant duplicates
- Battle Pass, daily challenges, achievements, and a global leaderboard
- Practice mode for new players to learn the game

What Does the Money Go Toward?

- Full card artwork for every card in the set
- Physical card game print run (stretch goal)
- App Store submission and Apple Developer Program fee
- Server hosting costs for the first year of live multiplayer
- Sound design and original music

Stretch Goals

- $10,000 — Full original soundtrack
- $20,000 — Physical first-edition card game print run (shipped to $50+ backers)
- $35,000 — Spectator and tournament mode with bracket system
- $50,000 — Console and Steam release

Delivery Timeline

- Month 1 — Campaign funds; finalize card artwork
- Month 2 — Physical card printing begins (if applicable); app store submissions
- Month 3 — Backer digital rewards distributed; Season 1 live launch

5. PEOPLE

Creator Bio

Wisdom & Chance is an independent project built by Jason Myers — a developer and lifelong card game enthusiast who wanted to build the game he always wanted to play: one that rewards strategy over spending, and lets you compete against real players anywhere, on any device.

The full web and mobile app is already live and playable. Your backing isn't funding an idea — it's funding the next chapter of something that already works.

Team / Collaborators

Risks and Challenges (required by Kickstarter)

Be honest — backers appreciate transparency:

"The core game is fully built and playable today. The primary risks are timeline-related: physical card printing is subject to supplier lead times, and app store approvals typically take 1–2 weeks. We have budgeted conservatively and will communicate openly with backers on any changes to the schedule."

6. PAYMENT

What Kickstarter Requires

This section is administrative — Kickstarter walks you through it step by step. Have the following ready:

- Bank account in the US, UK, EU, Canada, or Australia (routing + account number)
- Government-issued photo ID for identity verification
- Tax information — SSN or EIN for US creators (Kickstarter reports to the IRS for earnings over $600)

Fee Breakdown

- Kickstarter platform fee: 5% of funds raised
- Payment processing (Stripe): approximately 3–5%
- Total deducted: approximately 8–10%
- Tip: if you need $5,000 net, set your funding goal at $5,600 to cover fees

Payout Timing

Kickstarter collects pledges at the end of the campaign. Funds are deposited to your bank account approximately 14 days after the campaign successfully closes.

Failed Payments

Kickstarter automatically retries failed pledge payments for several days after the campaign ends. You will receive a final amount after all retries are processed — typically 1–3% lower than the gross funded amount.

7. PROMOTION

Before Launch (2–4 weeks out)

- Build a "Notify Me" landing page and collect emails — Kickstarter lets you set this up before going live.
- Prepare a 60–90 second gameplay trailer. This is the single most important asset for your campaign.
- Post teaser screenshots and gameplay clips on Reddit: r/indiegaming, r/TCG, r/cardgames.
- Join and introduce yourself in card game Discord communities before asking for anything.

During the Campaign

- Post daily on social media — show card art, gameplay moments, behind-the-scenes.
- Send Kickstarter updates at: launch, the 50% funded milestone, and the final 48 hours.
- Reply to every backer comment within 24 hours — Kickstarter's algorithm rewards engagement.
- Reach out personally to anyone who follows but has not pledged.

Key Platforms

- Reddit — r/indiegaming, r/cardgames, r/KickStarter, r/tcg
- TikTok / Instagram Reels — short gameplay clips perform very well organically
- BoardGameGeek forums — essential if pursuing a physical card game
- Twitter/X — tag card game communities and indie dev hashtags

Press Kit Checklist

- 3–5 high-quality gameplay screenshots
- 60-second gameplay trailer (YouTube link)
- 1-paragraph game description (use the text from Section 1)
- Creator bio (from Section 5)
- High-resolution game logo (PNG, transparent background)

Post-Campaign

- Send a thank-you update immediately after funding.
- Provide monthly progress updates until rewards are delivered.
- Deliver digital rewards on day one — it sets the tone for trust.
