WHAT IS WISDOM & CHANCE?

Wisdom & Chance TCG is a digital collectible card game (DCCG) that blends strategic deck-building with elemental combat. Choose from five elemental factions — Fire, Water, Earth, Air, and Nature — each with unique playstyles, strengths, and synergies. Build your deck, pick your Commander, and battle opponents in fast-paced matches that reward both careful planning and bold risk-taking.

Whether you prefer outsmarting the AI in solo mode or testing your skills against real players in real-time multiplayer, Wisdom & Chance delivers a deep, satisfying card game experience accessible on web browsers and mobile devices.

What Would This Normally Cost?

Building a game like this from scratch with a traditional development team would cost between $320,000 and $900,000. Jason Myers, founder of Legraphics Gaming Division, built it for approximately $400 in Replit subscription fees using AI-assisted development.

Development Approach	Estimated Cost
Traditional studio (4–6 engineers × 12 months)	$320,000–$900,000
Freelance team (3–4 developers)	$150,000–$300,000
Offshore development team	$80,000–$150,000
Single senior developer (12 months)	$100,000–$180,000
Actual cost (AI-assisted, 1 person)	~$400

This means the hardest part — building the game — is already done. Your backing funds art, polish, marketing, and growth — not the hope that someone can write the code.

CAMPAIGN PIPELINE

Kickstarter + BackerKit — Two Phases for Maximum Impact

Phase 1: Kickstarter Campaign (30 Days)

The main fundraising event. This is where the community comes together to bring Wisdom & Chance to its full potential. Kickstarter is the largest platform for game projects with the most engaged backer community.

- Live gameplay demo — “play the game right now” as the headline
- Daily/weekly updates with dev progress, card reveals, and community highlights
- Stretch goal reveals at key funding milestones
- All $10+ backers receive beta access passcode immediately

Phase 2: BackerKit (Ongoing After Campaign)

After the Kickstarter ends, BackerKit keeps the momentum going. Late pledges, add-on purchases, and a permanent pre-order store mean revenue keeps flowing long after the campaign closes. Many successful game Kickstarters generate 15–25% additional revenue through BackerKit.

- Late pledges — same tiers and rewards as the Kickstarter campaign
- Add-on items — extra packs, cosmetic bundles, Season Pass upgrades
- Backer surveys for fulfillment and personalization
- Late backers also receive beta access upon $10+ pledge
- BackerKit store remains open indefinitely

Funding Goal

Base Goal: $25,000

Covers 6 months of founder salary, app store fees, marketing launch, and AI-generated artwork for all 100 cards + 5 Commanders in Set 1.

Stretch Goal: $50,000

12 months founder salary runway, expanded marketing, tournament prize pool, localization into multiple languages, and head start on Set 2 development.
