

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Wisdom & Chance TCG is a tactical trading card game available on web (browser/PC) and native mobile (iOS & Android). The game is fully operational today with real accounts, real-time 1v1 multiplayer, an AI-driven practice mode, a card collection economy, and a premium monetization system. The platform is built for growth: a single shared backend serves both apps, enabling "play anywhere, same account" — a genuine differentiator in the indie TCG space.

Revenue is generated through in-app premium currency (Gems), a seasonal Battle Pass, and curated card pack bundles processed via Stripe and PayPal. The freemium model hooks players with a generous starter grant before surfacing premium options at natural engagement peaks.

4. MARKET OPPORTUNITY

The global trading card game market exceeded $12 billion in 2024 (physical + digital combined). Digital TCGs (Hearthstone, Magic: The Gathering Arena, Legends of Runeterra) have proven the model at scale. The indie digital TCG segment is underserved — most indie titles are web-only or mobile-only with weak cross-platform accounts. Wisdom & Chance addresses this gap directly.

- Target Audience: Ages 14–35, casual-to-competitive TCG fans, mobile gamers, Replit/indie game community
- Primary Channel: Replit community (built-in discovery), Expo Go mobile users, direct web traffic
- Secondary Channel: App Store / Google Play organic search after submission
- Differentiator: "Play anywhere, same account" — fully cross-platform with persistent progression

• Long-term (6–12 months)
Guild/clan system; custom card creator (user-designed cards); international localization; live events

8. STRENGTHS & RISKS

Strengths

- Live product today — real players can sign in and play right now
- Dual-platform (web + mobile) from one codebase — lower maintenance cost
- Server-authoritative multiplayer prevents cheating
- Spectator mode and live matches drive organic community growth
- AI deck suggestions lower the barrier for new players
- Full economy + progression loop already implemented

Risks & Mitigations

- Card art gap: Economy feels incomplete without art — prioritize AI art pipeline before marketing push
- Single server: Replit deployment has uptime limits — budget for dedicated hosting at scale
- App store fees: 30% platform cut on iOS/Android — push web payments as primary channel
- No marketing budget: Launch on Replit community, Reddit (r/tcg, r/indiegaming), Discord as zero-cost channels
- Competition: Hearthstone/MTGA have massive budgets — compete on niche (indie, cross-platform, accessible)

Game	Platform	Advantage vs. W&C
Hearthstone	Mobile + PC	Larger budget; W&C has lower barrier, more accessible
MTG Arena	PC + Mobile (limited)	Complex rules; W&C simpler to learn, same depth
Legends of Runeterra	PC + Mobile (sunset)	Shut down 2024; W&C fills the gap
Indie TCGs (misc)	Mostly web-only	W&C is cross-platform with persistent accounts

9. FINANCIAL SUMMARY & ASK

The platform is built and operational with zero external funding to date. Current costs are minimal (Replit hosting, domain). To reach App Store launch and first marketing push, the following investment would accelerate timeline.

- App Store fees: Apple Developer: $99/year • Google Play: $25 one-time
- Art commission budget: $500–$2,000 for professional card art (or AI art pipeline expansion)
- Marketing: $500 initial spend on targeted social ads to TCG communities
- Infrastructure: $50–$200/month for production database + CDN at growth stage
- Total ask (seed): $1,500–$3,000 to reach App Store launch + first 1,000 users

Bootstrap path is viable: web-only launch !' first paying users !' reinvest in art + app store submission. Revenue from even 50 paying users ($600/month) covers all operational costs.
